

I'm Trying

A D                    A    D
I try . . . to do unto others
A                                    D                                    E
As I would like to have others do unto me
A D                                    A    D
And I try . . . to love my neighbor
A                                    D                                    E
But I only realize I'm not the person I'd like to be

A                                    E    D
I do not deserve Your grace
A                                    E D
Still You forgave my sins by dying
A                                    E D
I know, I'll never live up to You
A                                    E D
But Lord, I'm trying

A                                    E    D
I do not deserve Your grace
A                                    E D
Still You forgave my sins by dying
A                                    E D
I know, I'll never live up to You
A                                    E D (hold)
But Lord, I'm trying

I try . . . to forgive others
Who at sometime, somehow, somewhere have done me wrong
And I try . . . to turn the other cheek
But I'm only reminded I'm just not all that strong

chorus (2x)

F#m                                    D    A
I know I'm not worthy of Your compassion
F#m                                    D    A
I know I'm not worthy of Your great mercy
F#m                                    D    A
I know I'm not worthy of Your forgiveness
Bm    D                                    E
Still You give it all to a wretch like me
